

The Little Red Hen

4B Gilbert Wan

Once upon a time, Little Red Hen was living with Lazy Cat, Lazy Mouse and Lazy Pig on a farm.

Lazy Cat, Lazy Mouse and Lazy Pig were very lazy, but Little Red Hen was clever. In summer, Little Red Hen wanted to grow some crops. She said, "Help me to grow some crops, please !" They said, "You grow them, we will not help you ! "

In winter, Little Red Hen harvested the crops and took the flour to make some bread. She said, "Help me to make some bread, please !" They said, "You can make it, we will not help you." Then Little Red Hen finished making some bread. Lazy Cat, Lazy Mouse and Lazy Pig said, "we will help you to eat all the bread !" Little Red Hen said, "From summer to winter, you guys didn't help me, so you can't eat my bread, I'll eat it !" They were hungry, but they couldn't eat any bread.

This story taught me not to be lazy and to be hard-working.
